Unlock automated time and attendance

With Humanity, you already have a powerful employee scheduling platform that includes functionality for clocking in and out. However, many customers who initially use Humanity for time tracking find that their time and attendance needs evolve over time. Many customers require increasingly advanced time tracking functionality, such as: accurate, automated calculations across complex payroll rules, exceptions management, accrual tracking, and payroll integrations that make payroll calculations breeze. Here's a breakdown of how TimeClock Plus can pick up where Humanity's time clock leaves off:
